DeltaMaster BI-Tool

Seamlessly integrated into the ERP system, DeltaMaster supports CASYMIR users in the analysis and interpretation of existing ERP data in such a way that they can be used directly for planning purposes.

Look, see, do

It's the final stretch of the process that determines whether Business Intelligence makes an impact – or not.

After all, if people don't read reports, understand them, and take appropriate actions, all of the time and effort spent collecting, saving, and preparing data was for nothing. The conditions for human perception are complex, but not as individual as you might think. We have focused on these common traits and used them to design information systems.

Universal standards for reports and analyses trigger signals that communicate variances and management information faster and clearer than ever before. That's just one reason why the best-managed companies steer their business performance with DeltaMaster. Here are many others.

Get the big picture

Our dashboard delivers a clear, unmistakable picture of your business performance. Two simple colors will change your view forever – so looking is seeing and seeing is doing.

Seeing more, faster

Be ready for your next meeting – with just a swipe. Using DeltaMaster on your iPad is intuitive and handy. No exports or extra steps are required.

Know on the go

Make good decisions wherever you are.
Our mobile app for smartphones ensures you always have important, reliable numbers at hand.

KPI everywhere you look

We offer individual solutions that bring your data to life – on desks, mobile devices, or even the walls and floors of lobbies and hallways.
